

Hand-drawn by artist Sara Nesbitt, Toile de Vienne is made of 100% cotton and features five historical landmarks of Vienna, alongside icons of early twentieth century Viennese modernism. Says Nesbitt, "I'm intrigued by the ambiguous spatial and subjective quality of traditional Toile fabrics, as well as the depiction of the themes and the ideas of the Age of Enlightenment. The time in which they were created has so much to say to our own time."

Individual scenes include the gothic grandeur of the Stephansdom, the rebellious spirit of the Secession Hall, the Prater's shady promenades, and the baroque stateliness of the Belvedere palace and the Karlskirche.
